DIVORCE ❤️‍🔥
OR ENDING A PERMANENT MARRIAGE

زوجتي فلانة طالق
my wife [her name] is divorced

Not in Nifas

Not in Haydh

No Sexual Intercourse
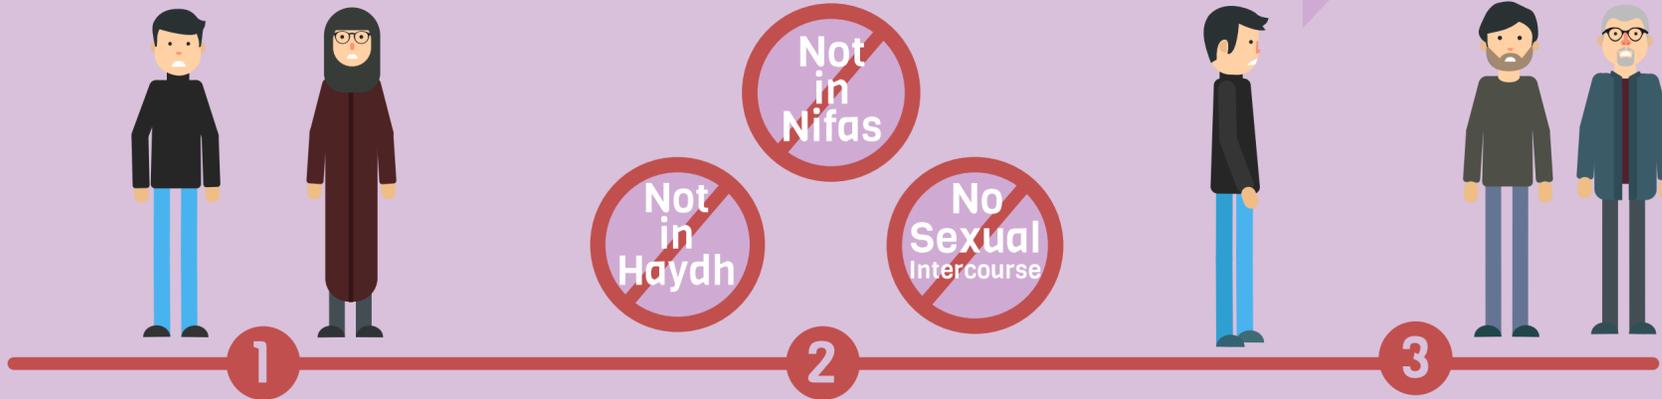

1

The man has the right to initiate the divorce. It is possible for the wife to have this right by proxy, only if it was agreed upon in the marriage contract.

2

The divorce has to take place during a pure state after menses or giving birth, when there hasn't been any sexual relations between them in that period of time.

Two just witnesses must be present.

Divorce takes place by uttering the formula of divorce in Arabic, if it is possible. He must intend the divorce by his words. The presence of the wife is not needed.

ENDING A TEMPORARY MARRIAGE

14	15	16
21	22	23
29	30

There is no divorce in temporary marriage, but it ends in two ways:

1

At the end of the specified duration which they agreed on conducting the marriage.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30

If the husband foregoes the remaining duration.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30

The couple remain married during the specified period. Mere separation or disconnection does not end the marriage.

IDDAH
OR THE WAITING PERIOD

A woman who is a widow, divorcee or has finished her temporary marriage, can marry someone else, but she should wait and complete the period of Iddah.

In some specific situations the Iddah is not needed. For example, a woman is in menopause or was never physically intimate with her husband.
